Good morning,

I just read that the Mayor has publicly expressed concerns with the BP oil spill and wanted to invite you and your office to join in U.S. EPA's call at 2pm today. EPA's update briefing will be provided by our on-scene coordinator, who has been working on-site since the evening the spill was discovered. He will provide a short briefing and then take questions. We've invited the US Coast Guard to join us.

Thus far, I've received RSVPs from U.S. Senate and House offices, as well as staff from the surrounding communities. Please see details below.

Please let me know if you have any questions,

Ronna Beckmann
